CHUKKER comes around (as the name implies) each year as the perfect wine for the season. CHUKKER is inspired by the great Chinon and Bourgueil wine from the Loire Valley that are served cool and consumed mostly in Paris bistros. This year's CHUKKER is a blend of estate grown stainless steel fermented (one-third whole cluster) Cabernet Franc, Merlot, and Cabernet Sauvignon, with a very little Syrah added in just for fun. It is not Beaujolais Nouveau (that November release date is just too early) but it is fresh and delicious. CHUKKER is a wine like no other - fun, fruity, young, dashing, drinks great, and is inexpensive. CHUKKER is a new spring tradition. CHUKKER is wine's answer to spring fashion: trendy, seasonal, red, hip, and tasty. What more can we ask for in a wine? First come first served – don't miss out!
