2006 BARRACK "TEN~GOAL" (Six Pack, 350 cases produced)

Ten Goal actually qualifies as Cabernet Sauvignon as it comprises 90% of the blend, with the balance an even split of Cab Franc and Merlot, and here the black fruits are condensed and booming on the palate, thick and soft with hints of licorice adding to the dark and alluring flavor landscape. It's a blockbuster and it should age a minimum of 5 years and last for two decades although you will never regret opening a bottle. It is called TEN~GOAL as a polo player's skills are expressed in goals and range from minus two to ten, with ten being the best. There are only five ten-goal players in United States. BARRACK TEN~GOAL is the best wine from the estate.
